Southern Interchange: Installation of directional signage on Pennant Hills Road, West Pennant Hills

Dear resident,

Work has been underway on the NorthConnex project's Southern Interchange, at the intersection of Pennant Hills Road and the Hills M2 Motorway, since 2015.

Tunnel excavation is nearing completion and work at the site is focussed on delivering the permanent tunnel facilities, buildings and signage.

To assist motorists travelling through the Southern Interchange, permanent directional signage will be installed in the Pennant Hills Road median between Aiken Road and Copeland Road. (see diagram below)

The signage will guide southbound motorists.

For the safety of motorists and workers and to minimise traffic disruptions, signage will be installed at night, between 9.30pm and 4am three nights per week. Work will commence mid May and is expected to take five months to complete, weather permitting. At the conclusion of installation work the signage will be covered to avoid confusion for motorists until the NorthConnex tunnel opens.

The main work activities will include:

- > Installation of temporary barriers around the work site
- > Site investigation and service location
- > Relocation of power conduits
- > Pile boring and foundation work
- > Construction of the sign support gantry
- > Installation of directional signage
- > Construction of a permanent barrier around the sign support gantry

Plant and equipment for this work includes excavator, saw cutter, truck, plate vibrator, concrete trucks, roller, mobile crane, profiler, jackhammer, vibrator, spray truck, paving machine, bobcat, scissor lift, vacuum truck, concrete pump, street sweeper, watercart and hand tools.

Traffic changes, traffic controllers and pedestrian management will be in place for the safety of motorists, residents and workers. Lane closures will be required on the southbound and northbound carriageways.
